

Follow the data in maternity care

Why we need data

Women are the source of our data and midwives are responsible for recording it in their documentation. This data is used to improve women's experience of maternity care and outcomes for them and their babies.